Biography:

On May 4, 2003, John Sullivan became Division Administrator for the Federal Highway Administration in Raleigh, North Carolina. He leads a multi-level disciplinary staff, which provides financial assistance, technical assistance and guidance to the North Carolina Department of Transportation, Metropolitan Planning Organizations and local governments. Prior to this assignment, he was the Assistant Division Administrator in South Carolina since July 1997.

Mr. Sullivan joined the FHWA in 1985 entering the Highway Engineer Training Program. He has served in several positions within FHWA at the Division and Headquarters level since completion of the training program. These positions included Assistant Area Engineer, Virginia Division; Area Engineer, Maryland Division; Highway Engineer, Pavement Division, Headquarters; Highway Engineer, Construction and Maintenance Division, Headquarters; Operations and Pavement Engineer, Alabama Division; and Assistant Division Administrator, South Carolina Division.

Prior to joining the FHWA, Mr. Sullivan worked with an engineering firm in Norfolk, Virginia. He graduated from the Virginia Military Institute, with Distinction, in 1983 and received his BSCE. He is a registered Professional Engineer in North Carolina, Maryland, and Virginia.
